REIGN OF MARTIAL LAW INVESTIGATED

West Virginia [illegible]ials Defend Reign of Military Rule

INQUIRY IN STRIKE ZONE

Senate Committee Hears Governor's Explanation of Conditions—Only One Branch of Probe to be Completed.

Charleston, W. Va., June 13.—After hearing former Governor Glasscock's explanation of the conditions under which the Paint Creek and Cabin Creek mining districts were placed under the domination of military rule, the Senate Mine Strike investigating committee tonight hurried its hearings along with but a single branch of its inquiry here to be concluded.

The testimony of Governor Glasscock and the civil officers of Kanawha county in power during the strike concluded the record under the head of the "Arrest and conviction of citizens contrary to the laws and constitution."

Tonight Senator Kenyon's branch of the inquiry as to general conditions and causes leading up to the strike was all that remained to be disposed of in Charleston. The committee decided to leave the matter of alleged violations of immigration laws to be taken up in Washington. The big question as to agreements and combinations "contrary to the laws of the United States" for the purpose of controlling the production of West Virginia coal will not be taken up by the committee at this time, it was decided, owing to the fact that officials of the United Mine Workers have been indicted on this charge under the Sherman anti-trust law in the Federal courts.

In no uncertain terms Governor Glasscock, and the civil authorities of Kanawha county defended the declaration of martial law in the strike zone.

Governor Glasscock told the committee that the sheriff and county prosecutor of Kanawha county informed him they were unable through the civil courts to control the strike district and had urged the declaration of martial law.

A Reign of Terror.

"There was a reign of terror in the strike district," said the former Governor, "25 or 30 murders had been committed and no prosecutions had been made in the courts. I considered martial law an absolute necessity."

Senator Borah ascertained that the Governor believed that the "mine guards" in the strike district and most of them employes of a detective agency, were the main cause of trouble and that one of the principal reasons for his declaring martial law was his desire to rid the district of the mine guards. After the guards had been driven out, he said, the question of unionizing the field became acute, and the trouble broke out again.

The governor was unequivocal in his defense of the actions of the military commission which tried prisoners in the strike zone.

"I considered that a state of war existed on Paint and Cabin creeks," he said, "and I considered that under the martial law regime the will of the commander-in-chief, myself, was supreme, in the affected territory. I regarded the proceedings by the military commission as strictly in accord with the law under the conditions apparent at the time."

The former Governor explained that sentences imposed by the military commission which exceeded the penalties provided by the statutes were never intended to be carried out. He had an understanding with the commission that heavy sentences were to be imposed, but that he was not to allow the prisoners to serve the full terms. The long sentences were planned "for the moral effect."

"I was determined," said the Governor, "to have peace and order restored."

The attorneys for the miners ascertained from the former Governor that he recommended some of the militia men, who, after the first declaration of martial law was raised, took positions as mine guards in the pay of the operators.

Representative S. B. Avis, who was county prosecutor when the trouble began, testified that juries secured in the civil courts could not be depended upon to try cases arising out of strikes because of the widespread prejudice and bias throughout the country.

Avis said that throughout the strike troubles the criminal courts of the country with grand juries sitting were doing business without intereference.

On these points County Prosecutor Townsend, and Assistant Prosecutor F. C. Burdette corroborated the testimoney of Mr. Avis as did Sheriff Smith.

At the conclusion of the examination of former Governor Glasscock the committee to hurry along the inquiry, divided itself. Senators Shields and Kenyon with a part of the numerous lawyers in the case, and a score or more of witnesses, went to a room in the State Capitol and began the investigation of conditions and causes which led up to the strike. From Luke Gump a Mucklow miner, the new sub-committee heard descriptions of a number of encounters between mine guards and miners just before the strike began. Many other witnesses along this line were to be examined.

In short order Senators Swanson, Martine and Borah wound up the examination of the civil officers who wished to appear and at tonight's session but a single committee had witnesses to appear. Senator Borah, his branch of the inquiry concluded, left for Washington tonight, agreeing to return to Charleston if matters demanded his presence, arose.

Many miners, wives and daughters of strikers and union officials remained on the witness list tonight, but their testimony was to be cumulative in relation to general conditions on the creeks.

AMENDMENTS TO TARIFF BILL

Vote to Include Provisions of Canadian Reciprocity Act in Measure —Would Lower Tariff on Print-paper

Washington, June 13.—Amending the section of the Underwood tariff bill which would place on the free list all print-paper valued at not more than 2 1-2 cents a pound, the majority members of the Senate Finance committee today voted to incorporate in the bill the provisions of the Canadian Reciprocity Act passed in 1911.

This action would extend the free list to include all print-paper valued at not more than four cents a pound on the condition "that no export duty, export license free or other export charge of any kind whatsoever, or any prohibition or restriction in any way of the exportation shall have been imposed upon such paper, board, or wood pulp, or the wood pulp used in the manufacture of such paper or board.

Restrictions on Exports

Although the word "Canada" is omitted from the amendment, adopted by the committee, it would operate against Canada because of that nation's restrictions on exports of wood and chemical pulp. Senator Simmons, chairman of the Finance committee said that other proposed restrictive provisions or countervailing duties aimed against Canada had not yet been acted upon by the majority and that the matter would be taken up again tomorrow. He added that there might be re-consideration of the action thus far taken.

Under the reciprocity amendment, pulp wood or paper could come in free from Canada, when it is the product of free lands in Canada, lands unrestricted by export duty or license fee.

Senator Simmons' Statement

Senator Simmons stated he believed the committee could conclude its work by next Wednesday, and that the Democratic caucus could then be called to meet immediately. It was his opinion that the caucus would not be delayed because of the absence of Democratic Senators in West Virginia, as they could be called here to participate in the deliberations if their work should not be completed by that time.

Administrative Features

Senator Simmons said he believed the bill could be reported to the Senate by June 25th.

"I do not anticipate that the caucus will be prolonged, or that the caucus will materially change the report of the Finance committee, inasmuch as our work has been almost unanimous."

Administrative features of the bill, which have delayed the work of the committee thus far, the Senator said, would be solved by the committee within a few days, as the sub-committee in charge of the feature would complete its work and report to the majority members tomorrow. Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, he stated, had submitted many valuable suggestions, many of which would be accepted.

AWAITS PRESIDENT'S APPROVAL

Sundry Civil Appropriation Bill Soon to Become a Law

Washington, June 13.—Only the approval of the President is now needed to make a law of the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill with the exemption of labor organizations and farmers' associations from anti-trust prosecutions with funds provided by the measure. By a vote of 46 to 12 the Senate today receded from its opposition to an item in the bill as it passed the House reducing the number of members of the board of managers of the National Soldiers' Home from 11 to 5.

The suggestion that the Senate recede was made by Senator Martin who said the House would defeat the entire bill rather than have it go through without the change.

Senator Burton, of Ohio, and Senator Sherman, of Illinois, attacked the proposed reduction as false economy. Senator Newlands, of Nevada, denounced the action in the House in insisting upon legislating in an appropriation bill as indefensible and dangerous.

The bill has been in conference since May 9th. It was almost an exact duplicate of the measure vetoed by President Taft because it contained the provision that none of the money appropriated for the enforcement of the Sherman anti-trust law should be used to prosecute labor organizations or farmers' associations.

Delay in acting on the measure has embarrassed various branches of the government, some of the departmental bureaus being left entirely without funds. Only yesterday the Department of Commerce announced that inhabitants of the Pribilof Islands, Alaska, were on the verge of famine because the Bureau of Fisheries was without money with which to dispatch a supply vessel due to be sent long ago.

FREIGHT RATE REDUCTIONS

Cheaper Rates on Glass For Furniture-producing Territory

Washington, June 13.—A reduction varying from three cents to six cents a hundred pounds in the freight rates on window glass, rolled glass and plate glass from Pittsburgh, Pa., and Toledo, Ohio, to High Point, N. C., and other destinations in that furniture-producing territory was ordered today by the Inter-State Commerce Commission. Reparations, the Commission announced would be granted to shippers under what were held to be unreasonable rates as soon as the necessary proof of shipments could be made.

LEGISLATION ON CURRENCY OPPOSED

Attempt to Block Action on Monetary Problem at Present Session

THE "MONEY TRUST" ASSAILED

Prominent Texan Declares Wall Street is Backing the Propaganda for Action in Banking and Currency Questions

Washington, June 13.—An undercurrent of opposition among a considerable number of House Democrats to the plan for currency legislation at this session of Congress took definite shape today, when Representative Henry, of Texas, chairman of the powerful Rules Committee, openly charged that Wall Street was back of the propaganda for currency legislation.

While favoring revision of the banking and currency laws at the next session of Congress, Mr. Henry insisted that further investigation of the so-called "money trust" should be immediately pressed. The Pujo committee, he declared, barely scratched the surface of the facts underlying the concentration of control of money and credit, because the Comptroller of the Currency refused access to his records, making it impossible for the investigators to "completely" expose the existing relations between the Wall Street bankers and their allies with the trusts and monopolies, stock gamblers and financial conspirators.

"Wall Street bankers," he added, "now are demanding legislation on the currency question in order that they may make a market for their commercial paper (much of it is based on rotten securities), and have currency issued on their assets."

Mr. Henry introduced a bill to amend the banking laws, so as to make banking associations subject to the visitorial powers "exercised or directed" by Congress, or by either House of Congress.

While this was going on, it became known that the administration measure representing the combined views of President Wilson, Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, Senator Owen, of Oklahoma, chairman of the Senate Banking and Currency committee, and Representative Glass, chairman of the House Banking and Currency committee, would be introduced in the House next Tuesday, and that the full committee of the House probably would meet to take up the bill a day or two later.

President Wilson is expected to send a message on the subject, probably Tuesday. Mr. Glass had a long conference today with Secretary McAdoo going over the details of the bill.

"It is imperative duty to pass currency legislation at this session of Congress," said Mr. Glass tonight. "It seems singular to me that any well-informed member of Congres should imagine that the need is not urgent. If any such member will come to the Banking and Currency committee room, and note the volume of correspondence on the subject with which the secretary has been deluged, and the tenor of the letters written, he will become easily convinced, not only that the bankers of the country favor legislation, but that business men of every description favor it, the latter even more urgent than the former."

Members of the House committee, while disposed to follow the party leadership, are not agreed upon the necessity of currency legislation now. They are in a waiting mood, and seeking light.

Mr. Henry, in his statement, accompanying his bill, declared "the Wall Street bankers, thinking the people confused and upset by tariff revision, have begun their old scheme of endeavoring to hurry through a plan giving them the right to issue or have issued by the government, asset currency. The bankers and their allies want to make a market for their paper and securities and control the country's currency and cause the government to abdicate the functions of issuing and controlling the currency.

"There is positively at present no need of an emergency currency bill, the Aldrich-Vreeland bill is on the statutes, and has a year to live. It certainly suffices for that length of time."

Charging that the only aim of the Wall Street bankers was to pass the Aldrich bill "veneered over so as to fool the people," Mr. Henry said the voters would be "wise to wake up and prepare for the greatest struggle they ever fought with the New York banking fraternity and the money trust."

"The Baltimore platform said nothing about currency legislation, except to repudiate and denounce the Aldrich currency bill," he said. "It did, however, demand a systematic revision of our banking laws so that we might have protection from control or dominance by what is known as the 'money trust.'

"I am ready now for the right kind of currency legislation, but never for the plan that turns over the currency business to the banks and corporations and strips the government of its sovereign power."

FIRE NARROWLY AVERTED

Lamp Explosion at Chadbourn Causes Some Excitement

(Special Star Telegram.)

Chadbourn, N. C., June 13.—A bad fire was narrowly averted this evening when an oil lamp exploded in the cafe next door to the Chadbourn Drug Company's place, owned and operated by Mr. L. L. Hughes. Due to prompt response by our local fire department the flames were quickly extinguished after slight damage to the cafe fixtures and several dishes of eatables, including fried chicken and country ham. The total loss will scarcely exceed $15. What it takes to "out" fires our fire department has it.

MAJ. E. J. HALE NOMINATED

Distinguished Fayetteville Citizen Appointed Minister to Costa Rica. Whitehead Kluttz Slated for Brazilian Post.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., June 13.—As forecasted exclusively in these dispatches some days ago, Maj. Edward J. Hale, of Fayetteville, was today nominated by President Wilson for Minister to Costa Rica.

There will be no opposition to his confirmation, it is said. The place is one of great importance and pays an annual salary of $10,000, and in addition $2,000 is made available for a private secretary.

Whitehead Kluttz, of Salisbury, will in all probability be named for Ambassador at Brazil, a place paying $17,000 per year. It is certain that the Salisbury man will be given a good berth and the rumor here tonight is that he will be selected for the Brazilian post.

The Navy Department is making a number of tablets from iron and steel recovered from the old battleship Maine and as long as they last these tablets will be available for municipalities and army and navy associations upon the payment of $4.80, which is the actual cost.

P. R. A.

THE LaFOLLETTE BILL.

Would Amend Sherman Anti-Trust Law Making New Provisions.

Washington, June 13.—Senator La Follette today introduced a bill to amend the Sherman anti-trust law so as to provide that when any person, firm or corporation is held guilty of restraining trade, the burden of proof to establish the reasonableness of such restraint should be upon the defendant.

Any concern controlling more than 30 per cent. of the business in the United States in any commodity would be barred from claiming reasonable restraint.

The bill also would define as conclusively unreasonable any business which restrains the purchase of any article from any other person, or restricts the use of any given article; any discrimination based upon the quantity of a commodity purchased, or upon aggregate price; curtailing or limiting distribution of an article in any given territory or agreement to withhold any commodity from sale in any given locality, underselling to prevent competition and maintaining unreasonable prices on raw materials to prevent competition.

The measure would prohibit the sale of any patent to illegally restrain trade.

APPOINTMENT CONFIRMED

William H. Berry Becomes Collector of Customs at Philadelphia

Washington, June 13.—The Senate today confirmed the appointment of William H. Berry, as collector of customs at Philadelphia. Mr. Berry's nomination was made early in President Wilson's administration and had been pending in the Senate with a favorable report from a committee since May 1st. Confirmation had been opposed until today by Senators Oliver and Penrose.

The case of Mrs. Longstreet, widow of the Confederate general, for whom a successor has been named by President Wilson, as postmitress at Gainesville, Ga., also was before the Senate again today. Friends of Mrs. Longstreet have determined to request the appointment of a sub-committee to investigate the circumstances connected with the change in the Georgia office. Action upon the confirmation of her successor, Mrs. H. W. J. Ham, was deferred by the Senate.

LEGISLATORS SQUABBLE.

A Free-for-All Fight Was Narrowly Averted.

Springfield, Ill., June 13.—A riot was narrowly averted in the House of Representatives of Illinois Legislature at 6 o'clock today when Representative Thomas N. Gorman, of Peoria, assaulted Representative George H. Wilson, of Quincy, the "dry leader" in the House, and knocked him down. Speaker McKinley finally succeeded in restoring order, and prevented a free-for-all fight on the floor between the friends of Gorman and Wilson.

TO BROADEN SCOPE OF LOBBY INQUIRY

The Senate Will Investigate Every Phase of the System

THE SENSATIONAL EVIDENCE

Attempt to Disclose Past, Present and Future of Lobbyism—President's Name Figures in the Various Evidence Offered

Washington, June 13.—Lobbying as a fine art, how it is done, and who is responsible, what ends are sought, and what results are accomplished, probably will be investigated by the special Senate Lobby committee before it concludes its work and submits a report to the Senate.

For nearly two weeks the five Senators on the committee have listened to testimony that has dealt almost exclusively with the influence exerted on the tariff bill, but it has uncovered enough trails to lead members to believe that campaigns of every sort, political, industrial and economic, have been conducted much along the same lines, through paid agents, and efforts to create public sentiment favorable to the causes concerned.

Broaden Scope of Inquiry

In executive session tonight it was decided to submit to the Senate the question of a further broadening of the scope of its inquiry. The investigation has taken so much time that some Senators on the committee thought that it might be well to limit its activities to a complete inquiry into lobbying for and against sugar and wool, but after a half hour's session, Chairman Overman was instructed to lay the whole matter before the Senate.

It was believed tonight that the time limit of twenty days placed upon the committee would be extended and that the investigation would go into every possible phase of what the committee suspects is lobbying. Any skeletons that have dangled in the closets of Congress and any soiled linen that may have hung there will be exhibited to the public eye and legislation to impose drastic restrictions upon lobbying and the "acceleration" of public opinion, may result.

Chairman Overman said at the conclusion of the executive session that none could see how long the inquiry might take if any extension of time is granted and the committee takes up the broad subject of general lobbying.

A Day of Sensations

The committee's decision came at the end of a day filled with sensations. On two occasions President Wilson figured in the testimony. Senator Gallinger told the committee that in his opinion the President had once at least come dangerously near "lobbying," and Truman G. Palmer, Washington representative of the United States beet sugar industry, declared that a "plate matter" campaign much similar to the one conducted in newspapers by him had accompanied the campaigns of the Presdient and Representative Underwood before the Baltimore convention.

Senator Cummins cross-examined Mr. Palmer, at length about details of his newspaper campaign and developed that to the best knowledge of the witness, many of the big interests of the country were engaged in similar efforts to mold the opinion of the country.

Chairman Overman announced that the committee to call Anselm Wold, printing clerk of the Senate. Statements made to him and to Senator Nelson by Mr. Wolde, he said, showed that only one order had been made by the Senate, although two are alleged to have been made.

Senator Lodge, who secured an order for the printing of charts made by Mr. Palmer will take the stand to explain his connection with "Sugar at a glance" if he desires, and Mr. Palmer, whose testimony was concluded today, will be held here until this matter is cleared up.

Publicity Campaigns

Mr. Palmer had been on the stand for several hours when Senator Cummins led him into a discussion of what he knew of other publicity campaigns like his own.

"I understand the same concern that we used, the American Press Association, was used by both Mr. Wilson and Mr. Underwood in their nominating campaigns in the same way," said the witness. "I am speaking of campaigns that are made to affect public opinion which in turn is intended to influence legislation."

Senator Cummins went on to ask if the railroad and banking interests in New York did not employ men to create public opinion?

"I have heard it so stated," said Mr. Palmer.

"Can you give the committee the names of these people so that we can get them here and have a round-up of the whole business of trying to color public opinion this way?"

"From my general information I do not think you would have enough space in this room for them all, if we could get them all together, but I have no personal information as to who the men are."

"I think that is one of the things that ought not to be done in this country and I would be very glad to give it publicity here in order that we may, if possible, find some measure of correction. It is general knowledge that any quantity of large interests are doing that thing," Senator Cummins said.

"We never would have thought of it, had it not been that others were doing it, and it seemed to be a general thing with the American Press Association," said Mr. Palmer. "The two gentlemen, who came to me were particular to impress upon me that they were oding this work for Mr. Wil-

STEEL CORPORATION SUIT

Judge Gary, Chairman of United States Steel Corporation, Testifies in Government Dissolution Suit—Evidence.

New York, June 13.—"If the United States Steel Corporation paid $35,000,000 for the Tennessee Coal & Iron Co., and $14,000,000 more to put it on its feet, not because it wanted the property, but to save the firm of Moore & Schley, and other banking concerns holding Tennessee Coal & Iron stock, from ruin in the panic of 1907, wouldn't it have been better for the corporation to loan Moore & Schley $10,000,000 or $15,000,000 or give it to them outright?" This in substance was the question Jacob M. Dickinson, attorney for the government, in the dissolution suit against the corporation asked its chairman, Judge Elbert H. Gary, today.

Judge Gary had testified that the money spent in the company's acquisition and rehabilitation could have brought far greater profits if put into other plants.

"I will say 'No'," was Judge Gary's answer. "I believe we did the best and most prudent thing under the circumstances."

Judge Gary expressed surprise when the government put into evidence articles published in Steel Trade journals as late as September, 1905, reporting meetings of various steel associations at which it was stated that prices were agreed upon. In one it was stated that "it was voted to investigate members charged with price-cutting."

Judge Gary said he never had read the articles referred to. "I am surprised to learn," he said, "that such meetings were held as late as that. I am surprised the government didn't take notice of them."

"Well, it takes the government a long time to get started, but like the mills of the gods, when they do grind, they grind exceedingly fine", remarked Judge Dickinson.

"And sometimes both the just and unjust," replied the witness.

Turning to the question of the wire pools whose members were indicted and fined in 1911, Judge Dickinson called the attention of the witness to his testimony that in 1904 he had given orders to the corporation's subsidiaries to withdraw from all pools and had not discovered the participation of the American Steel & Wire Company in the wire pool until 1908 "through an outsider."

"What steps did you take to inform yourself that your orders had been carried out?"

"None. I hadn't been looking for burglars in my house and I had no reason to suppose that any were there", replied the chairman. "I assumed that my general solicitor's office had disposed of the whole matter."

"What disciplinary steps did you take when you learned four years later that your orders had been violated? Did you discharge anybody?"

"No, I used emphatic language, but I was thoroughly satisfied that the thing would never occur again. I did not want to deprive men whose families depended upon them for their support. They were fined by the court and disgraced."

The Federal attorney put into evidence a statement attributed to Judge Gary, published after a meeting of steel manufacturers in 1911. In this the witness was reported as saying that the subsidiaries of the corporation proposed to meet the pride reductions of the Republic Iron & Steel Co., and that "it is believed these prices will be generally followed."

The prices in question were quoted.

The witness said that he had made the statement, but that "some one else inserted the prices."

"No one," he added, "was under the least obligation to follow these prices."

Robert Bacon, former ambassador to France, and a former partner of J. P. Morgan & Co., is expected to testify tomorrow.

RACIAL CLASH AVERTED

Timely Arrival of Officers Prevents Violence

Loughman, Fla., June 13.—A clash between whites and negroes of this place was averted tonight by the timely arrival of Sheriff Logan and an armed posse from Lakeland. A negro was whipped here Tuesday for having made an insulting remark about a white woman. Negro saw mill employes resenting this quit work and made threatening demonstrations. Today armed negroes appeared in town and defied the local authorities. Sheriff Logan was promptly appealed to for aid. Since his arrival all is quiet and seven arrests have been made. No further trouble is anticipated tonight.

COMPROMISE EFFORTS FAIL

Complications in Cases Against 'Frisco Policemen

San Francisco, June 13.—Efforts to compromise the police scandal in San Francisco by an exchange of light sentences for pleas of guilty failed today. Frank Esola, already convicted for sharing profits with bunco men while he was an officer, will be sentenced tomorrow, and the other seven policemen under indictment—some for conspiracy, some for larceny and some for both—will plead not guilty and stand trial.

COLONEL ASTOR'S ESTATE APPRAISED

Was Valued at Approximately Eighty-eight Million Dollars

LARGE HOLDINGS IN NEW YORK

Announcement of the Fortunes Reverting to the Heirs—Many Features of Interest in the Appraisal —The Valuations

New York, June 13.—The estate of Colonel John Jacob Astor, who perished in the Titanic disaster, was officially appraised this afternoon at $88,000,000, of which Vincent Astor receives $68,964,499; Mrs. Adeline Force Astor $7,678,896; Muriel Astor $4,856,758, and John Jacob Astor's son by his second marriage $2,922,672.

The estate is declared to be the largest ever appraised in this country. The cost of determining its value was made remarkably low, owing to an understanding by which the Astor estate bore one-half the expenses and the State of New York the other half.

Aside from the announcement, of the amounts that revert to the heirs there are two features of special interest in the appraisal.

One is the affidavit of the examiners that the property embraced in ante-nuptial agreement for Mrs. Ava Willing Astor, amounting to about $1,738,000 which was to have been reverted to her at the time of her husband's death now terminates, and goes to Vincent Astor, for the reason that the youth's mother, although once Colonel Astor's wife, was not his widow. Mrs. Ava Willing Astor divorced her husband, whose legal widow is Mrs. Adeline Force Astor.

The second feature concerns the inheritance tax of Colonel Astor. The estate saved a large sum by paying $3,150,000 to the State last October, within six months of Colonel Astor's death, this payment earning a five per cent rebate. The sum mentioned greatly exceeds any amount ever paid to any State as an inheritance tax, it is declared.

The appraisers placed the real estate value at about $63,100,000, and the value of the personal property close on to $25,000,000. The real estate is located on Broadway, upper Fifth avenue, Harlem, the Bronx, the East and West sides and in Rhineback, N. Y., and includes Colonel Astor's Fifth avenue home and his home estate, Ferncliff, in Rhinebeck, part of the old Astor House estate and of the Waldorf-Astor, the St. Regis and Knickerbocker hotels, and other hotel and office building properties. The value of much of it as fixed by the appraisers is about 20 per cent above the amount it was assessed by the city in 1912.

Including both real and personal property, the estate is divided approximately as follows:

Owned by J. J. Astor absolutely $51,300,000.

Life interest under trust funds established by William Astor $3,240,000.

Ante-nuptial trust, Mrs. Ava Willing Astor $1,738,000 (which reverts to Vincent Astor.)

Two ante-nuptial trusts, Mrs. Madeline Force Astor totalling $1,450,000.

Property in trust created by William Astor's life interest by J. J. Astor, and which passed to Vincent Astor $236,300.

Overturned Wagon Crushes Warren Ramsey, Employed at Newbern

(Special Star Telegram.)

Newbern, N. C., June 13.—Warren Ramsey, a young white man, whose home is at Beaufort, but who was employed at a local machine shop, was instantly killed at James City, just across Trent river from Newbern, at an early hour this morning, when a wagon containing a heavy piece of casting which he was taking to a point across the river, overturned and caught him beneath one of the wheels.

With Mr. Ramsey at the time of the accident was a young man named White. The latter was unable to lift the wagon from Ramsey's body and Ramsey died before aid could be secured. This is the fourth fatal accident which has occurred within one mile of Newbern during the past four weeks.

GREENE COUNTY COTTON.

Twenty-five Per Cent. Reported Lost as Result of Cold and Rain.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., June 13.—According to a report, fully 25 per cent. of the cotton crop in Greene county has been lost because of the severe climatic conditions. The staple had a poor "stand" before the heavy rains came on, and now it is rotting in the ground in low spots from too much moisture and lack of sunshine. The planters in some localities are plowing up their cotton to replant in corn and other crops, and on one farm 12 acres were treated in that manner yesterday. Tobacco, where it has been worked, is in better shape.

BRENNAN HAD A GREAT DAY

Won Yesterday's Game from St. Louis for Phillies—Giants Won from Pirates—Braves and Chicago Cubs Won

Brennan was invincible in yesterday's game and won for the Phillies, the third game of the St. Louis series, by the score of five to two. Cathers, in running after a long fly, crashed into the fence and fractured his arm, and will be out of the game for several days.

The New York Giants, featuring Cartoonist Al Demaree on the mound, won from the Pittsburgh Pirates in the third game of the series by a three to two count, Fred Clark resuming play in yesterday's game for the first time since his retirement in 1911. The Giants were credited with 14 safeties, but were unable to bunch them sufficiently to put around more than three runners.

Lemuel K. Ames, late of the New York Giants but now with the Reds, fell down hard yesterday and the Braves bunched hits enough off him for dividends amounting to six runs. Ames was replaced in the box by Packard.

The Brooklyn Dodgers again dropped their contest yesterday, the Chicago Cubs fattening their percentage still further off the slump of the Brooklyns. Zimmerman, "The Bronx Beauty," was sent to the shade of the club house for arguing a decision of the umpire.

Each team will strive hard for the top of the column which will cause some fast playing. The admission is free and a covered grandstand is furnished for spectators. WITH THE MOVIES

A big and joyous Saturday this for devotees of the handsome uptodate Grand, and they may prepare to wend their way Grandward this afternoon and night in keen expectancy of seeing something swell. Four pictures have been selected for today's show and they will be given in a setting of solid comfort. The price of admission, afternoon and night, will remain at that wee figure—5 cents. Today's topliner is a Pathe, "A Woman of Impulses," and the story transpires in the forests of Russia. A co-star with this triumph is Selig's "Range Law," with clever William Duncan and pretty Miss Myrtle Stedman in the leading roles. Vitagraph's "Two's Company, Three's a Crowd" is a rousing comedy and there is also an interesting, timely picture, "Street Scenes in Yokohama, Japan."

At The Bijou

Both the sun and the popular and gay Bijou smiled yesterday and huge audiences basked in the glow of both. Today will be bright and the Bijou will certainly more than hold-up its end of the bargain, because it has one of the swellest of all bills for the weekend to please the folks who will jam the theatre both afternoon and night. Remember there is always comfort, both as to seats and fresh air, and that the price of admission never varies, being always 5 cents. A great Kalem film, "The Adventures of An Heiress," with clever, charming Alice Joyce in the stellar role, will head today's big and bright galaxy. It is novel and superb. There are two other films among the other good ones that should not be missed. One is Pathe's "Borneo Pottery," a swell educational subject, and "The Hedgehog," which is really unique. The other Bijou features today are immense for merit.

A FOUR CORNERED HOODOO

Athletics Won From Naps in Thirteenth Inning—White Sox Downed Senators—Yankees and Red Sox Winners.

Not even a four-angled hoodoo, brought about by a 13-inning game on Friday, June 13, 1913, the hoodood day of the 20th century, was sufficient to upset the Philadelphia Athletics in their mad race for the 1913 pennant, yesterday's game having been won in the 13th inning by a two-base clout by Barry, followed by a bunt and a wild throw, which allowed him to score.

Two more games are to be played between the Naps and Athletics, today and Monday, and the Clevelanders will now have to take two straights to break even on the series.

The Chicago White Sox won a close game from the Senators, Hughes being knocked out of the box, but replaced by a firm hand in Mullin, who held the visitors to one run for the balance of the game. The Washingtons take the lower end of the see-saw this morning as a consequence.

The Yankees again defeated the Detroit Tigers yesterday, scoring their 13th victory of the season, on Friday, the 13th, 1913, which may be taken as a basis for forecasts either favorable or otherwise to Chance's wage earners. Figuring from the axiom that two negatives make an affirmative, a quadruple hoodoo can be looked at as either an omen of luck or evil.

By winning the second game of the series from St. Louis yesterday the Boston Red Sox made it two straights for the series, with the final games to be played today and Monday.

Athletics Won in 13th.

Philadelphia, June 13.—In the 13th inning of today's game Barry hit for two bases and Schang followed with a bunt on which Kahler made a wild throw which allowed Barry to score. Thus Philadelphia won from Cleveland. Mitchell was taken out in the ninth to make room for a pinch hitter.

Cleveland	000 000 001 0000	1	6	2
Philadelphia	100 000 000 0001	2	7	1

Mitchell, Kahler and Land; Carish, Bender and Schand; time 2:35; umpires Hildebrand and O'Loughlin.

Chicago Won Close Game.

Washington, June 13.—Chicago today won an exciting game from Washington 6 to 4. The visitors scored four runs and knocked Hughes out of the box in the third, but Mullin, who relieved him, held them to one run, while the locals crept up. In the eighth Weaver was caught between third base and home and Shanks, Washington's left fielder, ran him down.

Chicago	104 000 010	6	8	1
Washington	002 002 000	4	8	3

Walsh, Russell and Schalk; Hughes, Mullin and Henry; time 2:20; umpires Dineen and Ferguson.

Yanks Defeated Tigers.

New York, June 13.—New York today defeated Detroit in an exciting game 4 to 2. Ford had a little the better of DuBuc in a pitchers' battle. Ford's support faltered in the fifth when singles by Cobb and Gainer were followed by wild throws by Midkiff and Daniels. Midkiff was spiked in the hand by Bush. Manager Jennings re-appeared on the coaching lines.

Detroit	000 020 000	2	6	3
New York	010 101 01x	4	7	2

DuBuc and McKee; Ford and Sweeney; time 1:57; umpires Connolly and McGreavey.

Red Sox Won in 13th.

Boston, June 13.—Hits for extra bases in the ninth inning today enabled Boston to tie the score at 6 to 6, and St. Louis went down in defeat in the 13th inning 7 to 6. In the eighth O'Brien weakened, four singles, three bases on balls and a sacrifice accounting for five St. Louis runs.

St. Louis	010 000 050 0000	6	13	2
Boston	000 011 022 0001	7	12	1

Hamilton and Agnew; O'Brien, Hall and Carrigan; time 3:30; umpires Evans and Egan.

Philadelphia, June 13.—Miss Dorothy Green, of the Merion Cricket Club, near here, today defeated Miss Edna Wildey, of Plainfield, N. J., in final round of the Woman's National Tennis Championship in Singles. The score was 6-2, 6-4. Miss Green will tomorrow meet Miss Mary Browne, of California, the titleholder for the championship.

Miss Green and Miss Wildey, who hold the championship in the doubles, will oppose Mrs. Robert Williams, the Metropolitan champion, and Miss Mary Browne, National champion, in the final round of the doubles tomorrow.

C. L. DULS APPOINTED JUDGE

Gov. Craig Names Charlotte Man for Bench—Federal Money Must be Used on Consecutive Piece of Road

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 13.—The announcement from Asheville of the appointment of C. L. Duls, of Charlotte, as the Superior Court judge leaves only the appointment of one more solicitor by the Governor before the new force of 20 judges and 20 solicitors will be complete ready for the act of the last Legislature, making the State into 20 instead of 16 districts. It goes into effect July 1st.

The solicitor remaining to be appointed is for the new Fourth district consisting of the counties of Wayne, Johnston, Harnett, Chatham and Lee. The candidates for the place are L. H. Allred, Johnston county; W. D. Siler, Lee; Fred D. Bynum, Chatham, and Alfred McLean, Harnett. Mr. McLean was the reading clerk for the House of Representatives at the 1913 session.

Official information from Washington that all of the $40,000 that North Carolina is to receive for model rural route road building will have to be expended on a consecutive piece of road, completely changes the line-up of the contests for apportionment of this fund. Governor Craig having stated that he would divide it in three or four portions for different sections of the State, there had come in applications from very many towns and sections, but now the fight will have to be between different central or very accessible sections for the whole amount, entailing on the locality getting it the raising of $80,000 in addition. No convicts can be used and eight hours must constitute a day's work in the construction of the road under special provisions of the act.

Reports at the annual meeting of the directors just held show that there was not a single death at the Oxford Orphan Asylum during the past year. There are 360 children being cared for and trained. The affairs of the institution, which are directed and supported jointly by the Masons and the State, are in fine shape. The directors ordered the erection of a nursery building in which children under six years old can be cared for. Heretofore no children under six years have been received at all.

A charter is issued for the Appalachian Lumber Co., of Asheville, capital $25,000 authorized and $12,000 subscribed by T. F. Roland, J. R. Paton, T. R. Green and others for general lumber business.

REV. LACY L. LITTLE HERE

Returned Missionary to Preach at the First Presbyterian Church

Not a little interest attaches to the presence in the city of the Rev. Lacy L. Little, missionary of the Presbyterian Church, at Kiangyin, China, who will spend several days in the city as the guest of Mr. W. M. Cumming. He was associated with Dr. and Mrs. Worth at the Kiangyin station and at the University, and has only just returned from the Celestial Empire. For this reason many will want to hear him preach Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and again at 6 P. M., as he brings latest tidings of the situation in China, where the cause of Christianity has been greatly advanced by the recent political changes, the new regime being decidedly favorable to missionaries and their work.

Mr. and Mrs. Little arrived last midnight and after spending the week-end here, will leave Monday morning. Mr. Little was a college mate at Princeton of Mr. John R. Mott, whom President Wilson first named as minister to China, and it will be of especial interest to Wilmington people to know that he is in charge of the James Sprunt Academy for Boys at Kiangyin, having returned from his station only a week or two ago.

VETERANS HOLD MEETING.

Several Will Attend Gettysburg Reunion—Honor Mrs. Jackson.

The veterans of Cape Fear Camp held a meeting last night in the W. L. I. armory for the purpose of making arrangements for attending the Reunion at Gettysburg which will take place on July 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th. This is a reunion of the soldiers of both the North and South, and will be largely attended by veterans from all parts of the Union. It is expected that there will be a number of veterans from Wilmington who will attend. According to the plans made last night they will leave here on the night of June 29th, going direct to Gettysburg battlefield.

At the meeting last night resolutions were adopted expressing the high regard of the camp for Mrs. Thomas J. Jackson, who is spending some time at Wrightsville. They had hoped to have a reception in her honor, but the weather conditions have been such that it was not thought advisable. The meeting last night was largely attended, and one of the most enjoyable that the camp has had recently.

DR. M'CLURE RETURNS

Prominent Local Divine Back from Raleigh and Greensboro

Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure returned yesterday morning from the annual convention of the North Carolina Christian Endeavor Union, held in Raleigh this week. He states that the convention was the most successful from every standpoint that has ever been held by the Union.

The most enthusiastic demonstration of the convention followed the reading of the Floating Endeavor report, which was made by Mr. T. C. Findley, State superintendent. On his return Dr. McClure attended the annual meeting of the North Carolina Children's Home Society, held in Greensboro Wednesday night. At this meeting much encouragement was given to the project for the establishment of the receiving home at Durham, which has been agitated for some time.

Dr. McClure will speak on the convention at the regular evening service at St. Andrew's Sunday.

—Chief of Police Williams received a telegram last night stating that Alex Hall, colored, had been arrested at Newbern. No particulars were given and it was not known at police headquarters last night on what charge he was arrested.

"SQUEALED ON 'EM."

Young Man Arrested in Fayetteville Involves Others.

Fayetteville, N. C., June 13.—Excusing his theft of $20 from his employer and $30 from the trunk of a fellow lodger, W. R. Smith, the young white man arrested here yesterday, "squealed" on eight young men with whom he said he lost the money gambling. The young men range in age from 18 to 22 years and were haled to court today, three pleading guilty to gambling while the five others pleaded not guilty. The cases were continued until Saturday morning for the only corroborating witness. Smith submitted and was bound over to Superior Court, but was required to give additional bond as a witness against the young men upon whom he "squealed."

Jr. O. U. A. M. Official Shot

Wilmington Juniors, whom he recently visited in official capacity, will be interested in the following from a Newton paper relative to a mishap which befel Mr. John W. Ervin, director of the insurance department, Jr. O. U. A. M., in North and South Carolina: "At one shot late Monday evening, Mr. Luther Yoder killed a cat and hit Mr. John Ervin in the nose. Mr. Yoder was in his back yard as darkness was coming and shot at a cat that he suspected of eating his young chickens. Mr. Ervin happened to be passing along the sidewalk, and a stray shot plumped him on the tip of the nose. The cat was on the ground, and the only way to account for a shot rising high enough to strike Mr. Ervin in the face was that it struck a nearby wash pot and glanced upward and in a direction different from that aimed by Mr. Yoder. The wound is only a slight one, but requires Mr. Ervin to wear a patch on his nose."

Death of Little Child.

Mary Catherine, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Montgomery, who live at Winter Park, died early yesterday morning after a short illness. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of many friends in their great grief. The funeral services will be held this morning at 11 o'clock from the residence, conducted by Rev. J. S. Crowley, pastor of Immanuel Presbyterian church. Interment will be at Bellevue cemetery.

Regular Weekly Shoot

At the regular weekly shoot of the gun club yesterday afternoon Dr. J. H. Dreher was high man with a score of 45. Messrs. L. Clayton Grant and George W. Penny tied for the next highest, their scores being 42. There were a large number of shooters in attendance as well as many spectators. The weekly meetings of the club are held each Friday at 4 o'clock, and all those interested are invited to attend.

ALMOST BEYOND HUMAN ENDURANCE

Were the Agonies Which Miss Lance Underwent. She Lives to Tell the Story However.

Palmer, Okla.—In a letter from this place, Miss Forrest E. Lance says: "As I have been benefitted by the use of Cardui, the woman's tonic, I want to write this letter for publication, as it may be the means of helping other suffering women.

For three years I suffered so at times with my back and bearing down pains, I would think I could not possibly endure the pain. I gradually got worse and would look with dread for these trying times to roll around.

Finally I decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, as I had heard so much of its help to other women, and how glad I am that I did, for I can truthfully say that I have been greatly benefitted by taking only four bottles; in fact, it has entirely relieved me.

I can truly sympathize with any sufferer from those awful pains due to womanly trouble, for I have certainly had the experience of them."

As a medicine for women who suffer from the numerous ailments peculiar to their sex, or as a tonic for tired, nervous, worn-out women, Cardui has a record of more than 50 years' success.

It has benefitted thousands of women in this time, and should do the same for you.

Give Cardui a trial.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.

Saturday, June 14, 1913.

This is the country where the fish bite on the least provocation.

While Wall Street gets abuse it also gets the principal and interest.

Some Jonah must have started into the Summer resort business a week or two ago.

Says the Charleston Post: "America spends $600,000,000 for music." Does she get it?

June's effort to act like November is all but a success. Chrysanthemums are in bloom in Wilmington.

"Woman's place is in the home," says a writer. That is if it's a home that doesn't give her cold feet.

If a man escapes making a fool of himself, one of his lady friends is apt to make a fool of him anyway.

Says the Atlanta Journal: "Take things as they come." If they don't come, shall we take them anyhow?

Up to last accounts, President Wilson was still acting for the people and the people were still sticking to Wilson.

The only thing that will make woman hurry up to catch a train is to change the schedule from 9:30 A. M. to 9:29.

With good crops all over the country, gambling in Wall Street seems to be the only industry that has any dread of the future.

"She kissed him on the front porch" says a headline. The question is did he "kiss her back," as they say over in South Carolina?

Yesterday was Friday, June 13th, 1913, but the golden sunshine came and Wilmington's imported cold spell quickly disappeared.

The widespread idea of being the only coming city in North Carolina prevails all over the State in spite of the freight rate question.

Former protected interests are making a howling success of themselves over the effort of the Democratic Congress to revise the tariff 'way down yonder.

Those paragraphers who insist that "women tell all they know" are mistaken. That would be impossible, for they know something more every time they meet.

The bears of the gambling exchanges of the world are the world's pessimists. Their business is to create scares so they can buy something cheap.

Despite the fact that cities generally are considering themselves in the metropolitan class, the patronage of the root doctors continues to be good everywhere.

Of 300 students at Princeton 203 confessed that they had kissed girls and had been engaged. The other 97 must have been freshmen who had not learned to be fresh.

While the principal aim of the Democratic Congress is to pass a tariff bill to raise revenue for the government, special interests are howling calamity because the bill does not provide a lot of revenue for them.

Says the Jacksonville Times Union: "Four more officials of the Weather Bureau have been removed." Probably, too much of the cold shoulder towards that bureau has made it necessary for us to wear overcoats in June.

From the time a farmer plants his crop till the time he gathers it, he is up against parasites. The worst parasites he has to contend with is in selling what he has saved from the parasites that attack the growing crops.

A number of students at Cornell are learning to cook. They must have heard that it is likely that they will have to cook in the event that they get married to girls who love to boast that they never saw the inside of a kitchen.

An astronomist who has been divorced three times claims that by consulting him people will be saved from the possibility of having domestic troubles. He is like the bald-headed barber who recommends his discovery for preventing baldness.

SOUTH'S INTEREST IN THE PANAMA CANAL.

The fifth annual convention of the Southern Commercial Congress is to be held at Mobile, in the Fall. Quite an elaborate programme is being arranged and Mobile is to make the occasion a sort of celebration of the completion of the canal, as it is quite probable that the fist ship will be passed through the Isthmian waterway some time in October. We take the following from Thursday's Charlotte Observer:

"Mr. L. C. Irvine, of Mobile, Ala., representing the Southern Commercial Congress, appeared before the directors of the Greater Charlotte Club yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock for the purpose of placing before that body the claims of the Panama Canal and the desirability of Charlotte's securing representation at the fifth annual convention celebrating the opening of that great interoceanic highway to be held in Mobile in October and also to send one or more delegates on a tour of the Latin-American countries in order to secure information as to trade possibilities for manufacturers throughout this immediate section. This celebration is to be quite an elaborate affair and is to commemorate the actual passage of vessels through the 'Big Ditch', which according to Col. Goethals, will take place either the latter part of October or the first week in November. This is to be separate and apart from the San Francisco Exposition which is to commemorate the formal opening of the canal to the ships of the world. This celebration, however, is merely incidental to the supreme need of Southern communities getting in touch with the Latin-American countries in order that the bulk of the trade of these countries may be secured for Southern manufacturers."

Mr. Irvine is touring the South to urge a full attendance on the meeting of the Commercial Congress and to induce as many Southern business men as possible to go to Mobile and get in touch with the efforts to accentuate the South's opportunities for trade with Latin-American countries.

It is notable that Mobile is playing up this meeting and celebration in order to impress the advantages of that port. All the Gulf ports, without an exception, from Pensacola to Texas City, have been exceedingly active in promoting their interests in the canal, and their activities are strangely in contrast with the eastern ports where most of the commerce of the United States originates.

Among the distinguished speakers at the Mobile Congress will be Secretary William J. Bryan and the Hon. John Barrett, director general of the Pan-American Union. It is proposed to have an excursion from Mobile to the canal. The celebration, we are told, will consist first of the assembly at Mobile of the Governors of all States accepting the invitation, together with the representatives from the Latin-American States, and of course the members of the Commercial Congress. In his address to the Charlotte Commercial Club, Mr. Irvine said:

"It is realized that talking to the people will not interest them in the canal, nor in the Latin-American trade nor in the Oriental trade, which ought to come to our country when the canal is open. Something must be done to make the people sit up and study the relations of the South to that great field of trade and industry, which lies before us. It is no use to ask what that field is because the answer would be forgotten in a day. Our purpose is to cause such study of this field as will make it stick in the minds of all men as well as in the minds of the youth who will soon be citizens. In order to do this we have considered the human interest which underlies such a great event and we appeal to the curiosity and the desire of all to see the Panama Canal. Therefore, we have arranged for a series of trips constituting a great excursion to go to the canal when it is open and participate in the ceremonies passing through the canal with the first ship.

"To inspire the public to think over the great trade questions we propose to establish a great memorial fund to celebrate the opening of the canal. To the person, man or woman, who offers the best suggestion as to how to use this memorial fund to create Latin-American commerce for this country will be given a free trip with all expenses paid on this excursion. Only one person in any city can win one of these trips, but there will be 15 of these trips offered throughout the South. This means that the 15 best suggestions will get the 15 free trips. The suggestions must be made brief and to the point, and run not over 300 words. William J. Bryan, Secretary of State, and John Barrett, Director General of the Pan-American Union, will act as the jury of awards to decide the relative merits of suggestions.

"To enable the South to thoroughly study and appreciate the vast field for Latin-American commerce the Congress is organizing a 90-day expedition of research to go to Panama with this celebration trip and then to proceed to every country in South America for the purpose of thoroughly understanding the possibilities they hold for us. We want this party made up of one man from each leading center. He should be the very best man to acquire knowledge for the community. Unfortunately this is not the man who is likely to go at his own expense. So far as trips heretofore have been made they have contained chiefly gentlemen of leisure with abundance of means whose observations were likely to be more on the order of diversion and pleasure than along commercial and industrial lines. In other words their trips have been pleasure junkets. We propose that this expedition shall be composed of the men that the commercial organizations of the South shall select because of their eminent fitness for the colection of information, so that when each one returns home what he knows will be the common property of all the business interests."

Mr. Irvine is right that "talk" will not make the business men of the South realize their opportunity in the canal, but all the talk and what is to be said and done at Mobile will be educational, if it is along the right line. Neither will a 90-day excursion enable business men to make a study of Latin American countries. They can learn more in a week from the Department of Commerce and from the consular reports, if we have had intelligent consular representatives at the various ports in the Latin Americas. As to that we cannot say fully, but it is late in the day for the South to be trying to learn what use it can make of the Canal to build up its trade with the Latin countries. We ought to know now what our own resources are and what of our products we can send to South America to advantage. We ought to know already what we can import from those countries in exchange for our exports. With the canal about to open, we are mighty late in getting our bearings.

We fear we have been doing more talk than work. We do not know how well the Southern Commercial Congress is backed or financed, but if it had an organized staff to do the studying at home and abroad and then furnish the concrete information it would give Southern business men a more practical insight into their opportunities than will their going hither and thither to attend meetings where only agitation takes place.

There will not be many opportunities for the interior of the South or its ports to share much in Panama canal commerce if the ports are not prepared to handle commerce. In the first place, it is necessary for them to have suitable terminals, and in the next place they will have to secure the steamship service. Important as all, it will be necessary to have exporters and importers with the requisite capital to do business when they see something to do. They will have to make their banking connections at home and abroad. They will have to learn of the credit systems in the various countries and establish a line of trustworthy customers.

It will depend much upon the commercial instinct and the business initiative of individuals, or companies, organized with the right kind of men at their head. We very much fear that for many years to come, the large American concerns already doing business with the Latin-American countries will have to be depended upon to do our exporting and importing for us. That is, unless we show ourselves to be more of a commercial people than at present seems to be manifest.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

RAISE OUR OWN EATS.

The Maxton Scottish Chief marvels that "Irish potatoes are selling at 16 1-2 cents a bushel in Chicago and 40 cents a peck in Maxton." Stated properly, if the Scottish Chief is correct as to the price in Chicago, consumers there are paying 16 1-2 cents for potatoes while Maxton consumers are paying $1.60 a bushel. That is almost ten times the price paid in Chicago, but we doubt whether the cost of living has gotten to be so cheap in the Windy City. There may have been a temporary glut on the market, and if such were the case, it is more than probable that the South's unsystematic, unscientific manner of marketing is responsible for it.

Assuming, however, that "Irish potatoes are selling at 16 1-2 cents a bushel in Chicago and 40 cents a peck in Maxton," the Scottish Chief is justified in exclaiming: "Yet there is no place in the country where more potatoes to the acre are grown" than in the fertile county of Robeson, in the vicinity of Maxton. The Scottish Chief concludes with the remark: "This high cost of living needs investigation."

So it does. The investigation will lead right up to us for not taking advantage of our productive resources. We can produce more potatoes to the acre than any other country, but we don't do it. The fact that potatoes are selling at $1.60 a bushel in Maxton shows that our production is not great enough to economically supply our own needs for the present. Later on we won't have any at all, but will be eating potatoes grown in Maine and Canada. Since we can produce two crops of potatoes a season, we move that a large Fall crop be planted in July and August.

Shall we continue to pay high prices for Northern potatoes and Western beef, pork, mutton, butter and meal, when we could produce our own supplies and keep our money at home? If it costs us no more to raise our own supplies than we can get them elsewhere, it would pay us to do our own producing. Nevertheless, we can raise our own supplies a great deal cheaper than we can buy them. Are we going to do it?

FREIGHT RATE DISCRIMINATION.

In a letter to the Raleigh News and Observer, Mr. C. T. Johnson, a merchant at Benson, N. C., enclosed some freight bills and went on to say this with reference to the freight discrimination practiced against North Carolina points:

"Enclosed please find one freight bill of 207 barrels of flour shipped from Millersburg, O., on which the freight from Millersburg, O., to Petersburg, Va., was $52.04, and from Petersburg, Va., to Benson, N. C., was $92.06.

"I also enclose one expense bill for one car of hay shipped from Birchrun, Mich., on which the freight from Birchrun, Mich., to Richmond, Va., was $71.30, and from Richmond, Va., to Benson, N. C., was $58.21."

The comparative distances in cases like the above should be given. Probably Petersburg is about 200 miles from Benson while Millersburg, Ohio, is nearly 800 miles from Petersburg, showing that the per mile haul for, say 800 miles, was about 6 1-2 cents, while for 200 miles from Petersburg to Benson it was 48 cents, just eight times greater. That would mean that the Virginia point has eight times the advantage of the North Carolina point on the mile rate. Of course, we do not stop to remark about the relative importance of the two points, or as to their location with reference to water competition or their respective distances from a rate basing point.

The discrimination is glaring under any circumstances, but we rather think North Carolina will never get "freight rate justice" till the State secures a rate basing port at Wilmington and Southport.

CURRENT COMMENT.

It seems to be a fact that ex-Senator Butler has been living in Washington ever since he retired from Congress and it is supposed that he has been able to make both ends meet.—Durham Herald.

"Georgia, one of the few States that refused outright to ratify the amendment to the constitution providing for the direct election of Senators, which was proclaimed last week, will hold the first such election." Such is the irony of fate.—Richmond News Leader.

Tennessee as well as North Carolina and other States, is having trouble in disposing of a State bond issue. Governor Hooper has canvassed the financial districts of New York, and finds that there is no market for State bonds at the ordinary rate of interest.—Durham Sun.

We are exhorted to remember that we should double our fleet and provide an army of 200,000 men before we can hope to defend the Philippines. Then why propose to defend it? It would be wiser to charge off our expenditures to profit and loss and come home.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

It costs six times as much to ship a bale of cotton from Waco to Galveston as it does to ship a bale from Memphis to New Orleans. Memphis has the river to ship by, while Waco has to ship by rail. That shows the importance and economy of improving waterways.—Houston Chronicle.

Costa Rica is not as large a country as the United States, but bananas are cheap, and too, our neighbor, Major Hale, its new minister, will not have to purchase thermometers to inform him when he is warm enough, neither will be have to hustle to keep the temperature up. The capital city is 4,500 feet above the sea, and the coffee is fine. We trust the Major will be happy there. The Costa Ricans will have a royal companion if he can talk their Spanish lingo as well as he does United States—but we shall miss the genial gentleman at home and his editorial work on his paper, the Fayetteville Observer.—Maxton Scottish Chief.

Men on a Washington street car were given a lesson in old-fashioned courtesy by Miss Eleanor Wilson a day or two ago. While a number of men sat calmly she gave her seat to an old, shabbily-dressed woman who boarded the crowded car, and swung to a strap until she reached the White House. The Misses Wilson, in the eyes of the country, are wholesome, earnest young women. Of course, their names appear frequently in the news of the day, but they are never mentioned except in terms of the highest respect, and usually because they have been doing a good deed, or showing themselves to be very democratic in their tastes, or, as in the case of Miss Eleanor, giving a lesson in politeness.—Savannah News.

Will Speak at Burgaw.

Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, of this city, is scheduled to deliver an address at Burgaw on the night of June 23rd. His subject has not been announced, but he will speak on health matters. Dr. Nesbitt has made a special study of the best means of securing sanitary conditions for towns, and the people of Burgaw consider themselves fortunate in having this opportunity to hear him.

The J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., is seeking the worst case of dyspepsia or constipation in Wilmington or vicinity to test Dr. Howard's new specific for the cure of those diseases.

So confident are they that this remarkable medicine will effect a lasting cure in a short time, that they offer to refund the money should it not be successful.

THE CAROLINA PYTHIAN

Official Organ of Grand Lodge Will be Sent to Every Pythian in the State—Capt. Thos. D. Meares Will be Editor

Returning to the city on late trains Thursday night were Wilmington's representatives at the annual meeting of the Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias, domain of North Carolina, held in Winston-Salem Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Among those who went from this city were Col. Walker Taylor, who was Grand Chancellor for the past year; Capt. Thos. D. Meares, Supreme Master of Exchequer, and the new editor of The Carolina Pythian; Joseph W. Little, Esq., who was a member of judiciary committee; Messrs. J. W. Smith, J. D. Kelly, W. P. McGlaughon, delegates from local lodges; and Mr. G. Herbert Smith, of Cronly, who is a member of the board of trustees of the orphanage at Clayton.

The meeting was largely attended by Pythians from all parts of the domain and as usual Winston-Salem did itself proud in entertaining the visitors. Several persons in the Wilmington delegation have made frequent visits to Winston-Salem in the last few years and they were struck with the continued rapid growth and expansion of the Twin City which is now under one government, the change having been made a few months ago. Winston-Salem is rapidly coming to the front and is making a strong bid for the largest city in the State by the time the next census is taken by the United States. It is now third in population.

As stated in the telegraphic columns of yesterday's Star, Capt. Thos. D. Meares, of this city, was elected editor of The Carolina Pythian, the official organ of the Grand Lodge which has been issued monthly ever since it was established some years ago. Prof. J. G. Baird, of Charlotte, has been its editor and the publication has been issued from Charlotte. With the June issue, which will likely make its appearance in a few days, Prof. Baird will turn over the publication to Capt. Meares, of this city. For the present the paper will continue to be printed by contract, either in Wilmington or Goldsboro, but it is the idea to eventually put in a plant at Clayton and the paper issued from the institution, thus affording an opportunity to some of the boys to learn the printing business as is done in many other similar institutions in the State. Capt. Meares believes that boys can learn as much or more about the English language from the "case" as in school and that by giving them the advantage of both it will better fit them for life's work.

Heretofore the paper has been sent only to those who subscribed and paid the amount of the subscription, but this plan is to be changed and the paper is now to go to every Pythian in North Carolina—nearly 10,000 of them. The subordinate lodges are to pay for the paper at net cost on a per capita basis. It works out about 15 cents per capita per year. At present the paper is being sent to only 1,800 Pythians, so it can easily be seen that the paper is to be a much greater factor in Pythianism in the State in the future than it has ever been before.

The editorship of the paper has never paid any large salary and at Captain Meares' own request no salary at all is provided for the new editor until the paper has been firmly established on its new basis of operation. He asked that the Grand Lodge first find out how the plan is going to work out before attaching any salary to the position, especially as no very great amount of work will be required to fill the paper with good, live matter once a month. After the paper has been firmly established under the plan and everything is running smoothly the position will, of course, have a salary attached.

The selection of Capt. Meares as editor of the paper is a splendid one. He is one of the leading Pythians in the United States and is not without experience in the newspaper line, having served on the local staff of The Star many years ago and for past several years has been a regular contributor at intervals to The Carolina Pythian.

J. PLUVIUS AND BOREAS OFF.

And Balmy Summer Breezes Drenched With Sunshine Come Again.

The weather gods either have relented or else have grown weary of their heavy work, for they silently quit the job Thursday night and yesterday morning June and Summer appeared hand in hand, attended by balmy breezes while glorious sunshine, a stranger for almost a week, drenched the day, even if it was a Friday and the 13th, to boot.

The sudden resumption of the normal was hailed with relief and pleasure by everybody. Grouches disappeared and smiles took the place of glooms. The streets all day were thronged with beauty clad in bright raiment and all the world was gay.

The change was welcome to none more than to farmers, for it had begun to look pretty serious for their growing things.

REPORT WAS ADVERSE.

Engineer Unfavorable to Newport River Improvements.

Announcement is made from the U. S. Engineer office here that the district officer's report on the proposed improvements on Newport river is unfavorable to the project.

The reasons given are that the probable benefits to be secured from the improvement would be largely local in character and problematical in amount. Also the improvement desired would be expensive at first cost and would involve a great maintenance cost relative to similar works of improvement in the district. The conclusion is the benefits would not be commensurate with the cost of the project. Parties interested can appeal to the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors, Washington, D. C., and give argument for the improvements.

The Recorder's Court

After a busy week in which cider had taken a predominant part, the Recorder yesterday had a day of rest, there being but one case which was disposed of with a fine of $5 and the costs. Maybe the weather had something to do with it and kept the officers of the law indoors, or it may have happened that the people of Wilmington are growing better, and there had been no infraction of the law during the preceding 24 hours.

Getting Along Nicely.

Master Calvin Wells, the young son of Rev. Dr. J. M. Wells, who was operated on for appendicitis Wednesday at the Johnston-Willis Sanitarium in Richmond, Va., is getting along nicely and expects to be able to return home soon. Dr. Wells who has been with him, returns to the city today.

SPECIAL MEETING TODAY

Council May Take Up a Number of Matters at Called Session—Matters Probably Scheduled Cover Wide Range.

City Council will hold a special meeting at 10 o'clock this morning. The purpose of the meeting was not stated in the call so any matters that the Councilmen have for consideration may be brought up. It is reported that a number of matters, covering a wide range, may come up for action. There was talk of some interesting developments, but no inkling as to what these developments would be.

That the meeting will not be without interest goes without saying, for all the meetings of the present Council have been full of interest, due sometimes to the difference of opinion existing among members of Council on questions that came up for action. This will doubtless be true of some of the matters said to be scheduled for the meeting this morning.

It is reported that most likely an effort will be made to repeal the ordinance or resolution adopted at the regular meeting Wednesday to the effect that no private market can be established within 396 feet of any market owned by the city. The ordinance was adopted on request of Hopkins, Davis & Hintze, who control most of the space of the Front street market, and after Mr. J. J. Hopkins, of the firm, had appeared in person before the body and requested such action, contending that the lessees of the city markets should be protected from the invasion of private markets. Inquiry of members of Council elicited the information from Mr. Hopkins that his firm paid $111 for the space it occupies in the Front street market.

Councilman Loughlin was the only member of the Council to vote against the ordinance. It is understood that since the meeting Councilman Wood has made the statement that if there was any serious objection to the ordinance he would make a motion to reconsider.

It is stated that Mr. J. W. Batson, proprietor of the Palace Market, at northwest corner Second and Market streets, who will have to move on account of the building being torn away, yesterday made application for license to conduct a market at No. 108 South Front street, which is only a few doors north of the Front street market.

The Council may be asked to adopt at the meeting today an ordinance covering Sunday selling to take the place of the ordinance that was repealed at the meeting Wednesday. It was the idea of the Council to have another ordinance prepared to take the place of the one repealed, but it is not known whether it will be ready for adoption today. It would not go in effect for a week, anyway. There is a State law that imposes a penalty of $1 on one for following his usual vocation on the Sabbath.

Report had it yesterday that there is some likelihood that the matter of the appointment of special officers, whose services are now said to be paid for by some citizens interested in seeing the law enforced, may be inquired into at the meeting today. Mr. H. Mack Godwin, who has been known as a private detective and has rendered valuable service to the police department in running down violators of the law, was said yesterday to have been appointed by Mayor Moore as a special officer and was sworn in by former Chief of Police Fowler a few days before he retired from the department, June 1st. Chief of Police Williams, it was said yesterday, did not know until a day or two ago that Mr. Godwin was an officer of the city, and found out then only as the result of an investigation following complaint he made to Councilman W. F. Jones, in charge of the Department of Public Safety, that Mr. Godwin was spending a good portion of his time at headquarters, looking over records of the office and keeping in touch with all the information coming into the possession of the department relative to violations of the law. Inquiry on the part of Chief Williams developed the information that Mr. Godwin was serving as a special officer and was wearing a city badge. Chief Williams is said to have stated that the fact that Mr. Godwin was an officer put a different phase on the matter and he had no complaint to make relative to Mr. Godwin if he was a regularly appointed officer. Whether the reported inquiry of today will involve anything relative to the appointment of Mr. Godwin was not stated.

Councilman Wood may bring up again his resolution for an appropriation of $5,000 for experimenting with deep wells with a view of obtaining the city's water supply from this source.

MOST SATISFACTORY YEAR

Willard Bag & Mfg. Company Holds Annual Meeting—Officers

That the past year's operations of the Willard Bag & Manufacturing Co., were most satisfactory indeed will be gratifying information to many Wilmington people, who have set forth with much enthusiasm—and very properly so—that the smaller and more highly specialized industries of the town or city are the very life-blood of commerce. This condition was shown in striking degree at the annual meeting of the stockholders of the company yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, in the offices of the Carolina Insurance Co., on Princess street. Mr. J. A. Taylor presiding. The stockholders were very much pleased with the showing made and all the former board of directors were unanimously re-elected, as follows: Col. Walker Taylor, Mr. C. W. Yates, Mr. J. A. Taylor, Mr. Jos. W. Yates and Mr. M. S. Willard. The directors met after adjournment of the stockholders and unanimously re-elected the old officers: President, Mr. M. S. Willard; vice president, Mr. C. W. Yates, and general manager, Mr. E. Payson Willard.

The compliment carried with the reelection of those actively in charge of the industry, Mr. Willard, the general manager, and others, was also extended to Mr. W. J. Farrah, who has been with the enterprise for 20 years and was yesterday re-elected superintendent.

Infant Son Died Yesterday

Ernest the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Thompson, who live at No. 622 South Fifth street, died yesterday morning at 5 o'clock. The funeral services will be held this morning at 10 o'clock from the residence, conducted by Rev. J. S. Crowley, pastor of Immanuel Presbyterian church. The interment will be at Bellevue cemetery. The many friends of the parents sympathize with them in their bereavement.

SELLING "NO TAX" CHARGED

J. B. Neeley Arrested Late Yesterday Afternoon—Gave Bond for Appearance at Trial Today at Noon—Carload.

Charged specifically with selling malt liquor containing alcohol in violation of law, J. B. Neeley, who conducts a cafe at Front and Orange streets, was arrested at 7 o'clock last night by Constable Davis. Neeley gave $250 bond with Mr. Carl Strunck as surety for his appearance at preliminary hearing before Justice Harriss at noon today. The warrant was issued on affidavit of Mr. H. Mack Godwin, special officer said to be employed by the Good Government League.

The arrest of Neeley followed report of the city chemist to County Solicitor Peschau that samples of "No Tax" taken from a shipment received by Neeley on Thursday contained alcohol. Three of the four samples showed alcohol in quantities as follows: .15, .21 and .25 of one per cent.

It is stated that there will be a large number of witnesses for the prosecution and they will include a number of city and county officials who handled the samples of the stuff from the time they were secured at the railroad depot until delivered to the city chemist for analysis.

There is apparently marked rivalry between Chief of Police Williams and Justice George Harriss in the matter of enforcing the prohibition law and to all appearances both are exerting themselves to an unusual degree to land violators of the prohibition law. Both, it seems, had a hand in bringing the indictment against Neeley. With both men on the alert as the are it would seem a pretty difficult matter for the "blind tigers" to do any great amount of business in Wilmington. It is a safe bet that nearly all violators of this law will be rounded up sooner or later and the punishment of these offenders is certain. The offenders will find a rough road to travel in the Recorder's court and if they get into Superior Court for the next six months—well, with Judge George Rountree presiding they can hope for nothing short of a stiff road sentence. Judge Rountree will hold court in New Hanover county for the first six months of his term, which begins July 1st. It is already talked that an effort may be made to keep him in this district for a year, or, if this cannot be done, to get Judge Frank Carter, of Asheville, to come here for the first six months of next year.

Chief of Police Williams stated last night that he received information about 10 days ago that a carload of "No Tax" was on the road, and that he immediately detailed two plainclothes officers to keep a close lookout, having them to visit twice every day the freight depot to see when it came in. "No Tax" is manufactured by Robt. Portner Brewing Co., Alexandria, Va., and claims to be non-alcoholic. Chief Williams said that in the meantime he asked County Solicitor Peschau for an opinion as to whether or not the shipment of "No Tax" that was expected could be seized. Mr. Peschau, he said, advised him to procure samples of the beverage when it arrived and have it analyzed by the city chemist in order to determine whether or not it belonged to the class known as intoxicants.

In accordance with the advice given him by the county solicitor Chief Williams said that when he was advised Thursday morning by Officers Leon George and Coleman that the car had arrived and was being unloaded he went down and secured four samples from different barrels. He had these marked with his name and labelled exhibits 1, 2, 3 and 4, and carried them to the health department to be turned over to the city chemist for analysis. This was Thursday.

He said that some of the retail dealers, in the meanwhile, had gotten wind of the fact that the officers were investigating and refused to take the stuff. Two dray loads were thus refused, and as the draymen did not know what to do with it some of the officers suggested that they take it up to police headquarters. Chief Williams said it was not carried there with the intention of anyone seizing it, under the search and seizure law, as in the absence of a ruling from the county solicitor no one had any authority at that time to do so.

Chief Williams said he heard nothing more about the samples until he was called up late yesterday afternoon by Solicitor Peschau, who stated that he had received a report of the analyses of the samples in question, and that they showed the beverage to contain alcohol, and advised him to cause the arest of those who had been selling the stuff. The solicitor, he said, also informed him in the same conversation that Neeley, whose case he had been working on for a week or more, had been arrested on a warrant from Justice Harriss' court.

Chief Williams said he felt that the arrest of Neeley was a little premature as that it gave him no opportunity to work up cases against the others who had an interest in the consignment received by Neeley.

He stated also that he desired the public to know through the press that the police department was active in running down violators of the prohibition law and that the fact that the arrest last night was not made through the police department was through no fault of the police.

Solicitor Peschau stated last night that he received the result of analyses of the samples about 6 o'clock; that he called up police headquarters, but Chief Williams was out and that as he wanted immediate action he turned the case over to Justice Harriss.

It is understood that Neeley will be represented by Woodus Kellum and A. G. Ricaud, Esqs.

NEGRO WAS SHOT.

Isaiah James Shot Thursday by Unknown Parties—Kept It to Himself.

Isaiah James, the negro who cut Cora Patterson Thursday and then gave the officers a merry chase, was shot by unknown parties either before or after the cutting took place. He kept it to himself until yesterday morning, when he took some of the police officers into his confidence, and informed them that he had a few shot in his body. He was taken to the James Walker Memorial Hospital, and the doctors found that he had been sprinkled with bird shot, evidently at long range, as they were scattered liberally over his body.

James states that he received the load as he was crossing the bridge over the Seaboard near the Hilton bridge, and that he doesn't know who did the shooting. The husband of the woman who was cut was out with a gun looking for her assailant, but it is not known whether or not he found occasion to use it. The woman, who was cut, it doing well.

ATTEND OFFICERS SCHOOL

Members of Coast Artillery Corps of Several States to Gather at Fort Moultrie, S. C.—W. L. I. to be Represented.

Capt. E. A. Metts, the commander, Lieutenants Cantwell and Lynch, and four privates, Wilmington Light Infantry, member of the Coast Artillery Corps, N. C., N. G., will leave this afternoon for Fort Moultrie, near Charleston, S. C., where they will attend the officers' school for the Coast Artillery Corps of the States of North Carolina, Georgia and Texas, which will open on Sunday and continue for six days, during which time the reserves will be put through a course of coast artillery defense. The four enlisted men who will go had not been selected last night.

North Carolina will send 44 men to the school; Georgia will have 30 and Texas will be represented by three officers. South Carolina is not represented for the reason that the Coast Artillery men will receive their instructions at the annual encampment. For the same reason the Texas contingent is small. In spite of the fact that the Coast Artillery Corps of this State will go to Fort Caswell for the annual encampment in August, North Carolina will be well represented at Fort Moultrie.

The officers will be instructed in pit, range, emplacement and other positions of officers, handling the guns, etc., and will be made capable of instructing the men under them. To the officers of the North Carolina and Texas reserves, the school of instruction will prove especially useful and beneficial in that it will allow for greater efficiency at the encampments of the reserves of these States this Summer at Fort Caswell and Fort Crockett. The course will include all artillery drills, sub-calibre practice with the 10-inch guns and the mortar and seven pounders with the full service charges at the 10-inch and the mortar batteries.

As soon as the Coast Artillery reserves arrive in Charleston they will be taken down to Fort Moultrie on the army post steamer Gen. Weeks, entering at once upon their duties. The W. L. I. men will return to Wilmington Monday, June 23rd.

TAKES CHARGE SUNDAY

Mr. H. McL. Green Received Commission as Postmaster Yesterday

Mr. H. McL. Green is now in deed and in truth postmaster for this city, having received his commission from Washington yesterday which is the last step necessary, next to taking charge. In accordance with the usual custom he will wait until tomorrow, which is Sunday, to take charge. It is easier to make the change on Sunday than any other day as there is less business done on this day. The exact hour for the change has not been set but it will be some time Sunday afternoon when Mr. T. E. Wallace formally turns over the keys to Mr. Green.

Mr. Wallace has his books in such shape that there will be no trouble in making the change. The chief thing to be done will be the counting of the stamps, and this will not take over an hour. During the nine years that Mr. Wallace has been postmaster he has brought the service to a high state of efficiency, and there is no doubt that Mr. Green will continue it along the same lines. The people of Wilmington extend congratulations to both these gentlemen, the one who goes out that he has wrought so well, and to the one who goes in under such auspicious circumstances.

Sad Death of Young Girl.

Death is sad at any time, but especially so when it strikes the very bloom of young girlhood as in the case of Lora Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Miller, formerly of this city, now of Waycross, Ga., news of which was received by her aunt, Mrs. M. Z. Hinnant, of Wilmington, yesterday through the medium of a telegram. Young Miss Miller was only 14 and a half years of age and was the pride of her parents and friends. The remains will be brought to Wilmington on the 1:40 A. C. L. train Sunday and the interment will take place in Bellevue cemetery. The parents have the tenderest sympathy of a host of friends here.

Supposed to Have Skipped.

It is reported that Tom Stokes, superintendent of the county convict camp, who is awaiting trial on the charge of immoral conduct, has skipped the country to parts unknown. A warrant was issued some days ago, and Stokes was placed under a bond of $50 for his appearance in court. Mr. R. A. Burnett, county superintendent of roads, went on his bond, and yesterday when he went to the convict camp he found that Stokes had taken the precaution to leave the $50 behind to pay his bond.

MISS ANNIE DELL DURHAM BRIDE OF MR. S. O. PERKINS.

Burgaw, N. C., June 13.—The wedding in the Presbyterian church here Thursday evening of Mr. S. O. Perkins and Miss Annie Dell Durham was a very brilliant affair and was one of the prettiest weddings ever witnessed in Burgaw. The church had been beautifully decorated in green, and with the room darkened and the lights turned on presented a beautiful scene. It was a full dress affair and the bridesmaids of whom there were six were most charming and attractive. Mrs. H. B. Thomas sang a solo, followed by a quartette after which, to the strains of the wedding march, skilfully rendered by Miss Mattie Paddison, at the organ, the bridal party entered, the groomsmen and bridesmaids in couples, followed by the dame of honor, Mrs. W. D. Croom; then the bride on the arm of her father, Mr. R. I. Durham, and the groom with his best man, Dr. Perkins, his brother, down the other aisle, meeting the bride at the altar, where the Rev. P. L. Clark had already taken up his position, who proceeded to unite the couple in a very impressive ceremony, using the ring service. After the ceremony the bridal party retired from the church to the strains of the Recessional. The church was crowded to the limit, notwithstanding the weather was very bad. The happy couple took the 7:30 train for Washington City and other points north for a bridal trip.

On Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. R. I. Durham tendered a reception to the bridal party and other friends where a most enjoyable evening was spent. Refreshments of various kinds were served. There were a number of out-of-town visitors at the wedding.

WEDDING IN ATLANTA OF INTEREST LOCALLY

The following from yesterday's Atlanta Journal will be read with much interest by many friends in this city:

"The wedding of Miss Frances Bostick Dixon and Mr. Benjamin M. Jones, of Wilmington, N. C., was a beautiful event of Wednesday evening, taking place at 8:30, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Mary D. Dixon.

"Palms and ferns formed the decoration of the drawing room, and tall, graceful ascension lilies and pale pink Killarney roses lent fragrance and beauty to the scene. The ceremony was performed before an improvised altar of palms into which were caught many snowy magnolia blossoms which gleamed whitely in contrast to the dark green of the palms and growing plants.

"The young bride made a lovely picture in her wedding gown of lustrous white charmeuse satin, rare lace was introduced upon the corsage and was inset in panels in the skirt. The veil was caught to the hair with a spray of lilies of the valley, and fell in graceful folds to the edge of the long court train, and she carried a bouquet of Bride roses, showered with lilies of the valley.

"Miss Ruth Dixon was maid of honor and was costumed in pink charmeuse, the graceful tunic of pink chiffon was edged with crystal and her flowers were pink roses.

"Mr. Paul Baschon, of Richmond, Va., was best man.

"The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. L. Kennedy.

"A beautiful musical programme was rendered during the ceremony by Miss Lilla Lynan, Miss Corrie Jennings and Mr. Charles Powell.

"The wedding was followed by a small reception at which were entertained the wedding party and intimate friends.

"In the dining room a French basket holding an artistic arrangement of pink roses rested on a cluny lace cover over pink satin, streamers of pink tulle were caught from the chandeliers and fastened to the corners of the table with clusters of pink rose buds, slender pink tapers burned under rose and crystal shades and ices and bon bons continued the rose suggestion.

"Mrs. Dixon was costumed in white embroidered crepe draped over white charmeuse, a corsage of violets and lilies of the valley lending a pretty finish to the gown.

"During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Jones left for an extended wedding trip and after spending some time in New York will be at home after the first of July in Wilmington, N. C."

—In response to an alarm sent in from box 46 last night at 7 o'clock firemen went to the residence of Mr. B. S. Crum, on South Third street, but discovered that the blaze had already been subdued and that no damage had been done. The smoke was caused by meat cooking on the stove.

The staffs of the Seashore and Oceanic hotels were practicing yesterday afternoon for the game of ball which they expect to play soon. The game was scheduled for Wednesday afternoon but the inclement weather knocked it up. They expect to have the game some time next week. While none of them are professionals they have put in good time practicing and a good game is promised.

Good progress is being made in the construction of the chapel which Rev. Father Dennen is building on the west side of his lot at the beach, and it is hoped to have it completed early next week. Father Dennen's cottage has been moved to the rear of his lot in order to make room for the chapel. This chapel will give the many Catholics who visit the beach during the Summer the opportunity of attending services without having to come to St. Mary's Pro-Cathedral at Wilmington.

S. S. CONVENTION YESTERDAY

Hon. J. A. Brown Made Address at Currie—Many Interesting Sabbath School Topics Discussed —Fine Singing

The Sabbath School Convention of the Wilmington Presbytery, which was held at Currie yesterday was a great success from every standpoint. The principal address of the day was made by Hon. J. A. Brown, of Chadbourn, president of the North Carolina Sunday School Association, who spoke on Sabbath school organization. One of the enjoyable features of the day was the sumptuous dinner that was served on the grounds.

The convention was presided over by Rev. J. S. Crowley, chairman of the Sabbath School committee of the Wilmington Presbytery. Mr. W. M. Cumming, of Wilmington, made a splendid address on the important relation which the Sabbath School has to the home. Rev. W. M. Shaw, Sabbath school missionary of the Wilmington Presbytery, made an excellent talk on the rights of the child, especially to such training as the Sabbath school affords. Rev. E. B. Carr also made an address emphasizing the important relation which the pastor has to the Sunday school.

The principal speaker of the day Hon. Mr. Brown, sustained his Statewide reputation as a forcible speaker, and discussed particularly the importance of Sabbath school organization. At the close of the programme proper there were interesting discussions of Sabbath school topics by various members of the congregation.

The music for the occasion was furnished by choirs from the Sabbath schools at South River, Black River, Beatty Bridge, Caswell and Currie. Their singing was one of the most enjoyable features of the entire programme. It was originally intended to have a contest to decide which choir could sing the best, but this was abandoned as they all sang so well that it was not an easy matter to say which sang the best.

The meeting while held under the auspices of the Presbyterian church, was attended by members of all denominations, and it is felt that a forward impetus has been given Sabbath school work in that section.

EDUCATIONAL MASS MEETING.

Colored People Will be Addressed Sunday by Dr. Shepherd.

The colored people of the city will have a great educational mass meeting at the Academy of Music Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock when Dr. J. E. Shepherd, president of the National Religious Training School, located at Durham, will speak in the interest of this institution. The meeting will be presided over by Rev. Dr. A. Wilson, pastor of St. Stephen's A. M. E. church. Special seats will be provided for the accommodation of white friends who wish to attend.

The National Religious Training School is doing a great work for the training of negroes. It is sending out settlement workers into the large centers of population, who are teaching sanitation, right living and helping to make better citizens, and it is also training missionary workers for both home and foreign fields. Its aim is to educate the heart, head and hand in such a way that the young men and women who attend the institution may be taught how to make an honest living.

It has the support of many distinguished men, Judge Jeter C. Pritchard, of the United States Circuit Court, being chairman of the board of trustees, and Gen. Julian S. Carr, treasurer of the institution. At the last commencement the students were addressed by President Finley, of the Southern Railway, who expressed his confidence in Dr. Shepherd and the great work that he is doing for the uplift of his people.

COTTON MARKET LESS ACTIVE

The Opening Was Firm With a Steady Close at a Net Advance—Improved Financial Outlook Lends Strength.

New York, June 13.—The cotton market was less active today with prices easing off under realizing or selling for a reaction after the recent sharp advance. The close was steady at a net advance of one point on Aubust, but generally 1 to 5 points lower.

The market opened firm at an advance of 6 to 10 points on the continued strength in Liverpool and renewed covering which seemed to come largely from Wall Street sources. The more optimistic view of the financial outlook probably encouraged some fresh buying in connection with reports of increased activity among domestic mills, and an active textile trade in the West, but old longs took profits freely on the initiative advance, and prices soon weakened.

There were some further complaints of low night temperatures in the Eastern belt sections. Otherwise crop advices were generally favorable, however, and indications for good weather over the week end, seemed to inspire some selling for a reaction. Trading became comparatively quiet after the first and the market fluctuated within a point or two of last night's closing figures during the middle of the day, but there was a little flurry of selling in the afternoon on reports that a prominent Memphis statistician made the average condition of the crop over 2 per cent. better than when the government's June condition figures were compiled.

Closing prices were at the lowest point of the day with June and July showing the maximum losses. New Orleans and Liverpool houses were credited with selling rather freely here during the morning, while comparatively light offerings were sufficient to unsettle the market in the late trading owing to the absence of any important support. It was rumored that about 1,000 bales of cotton are on the way here from the South for contract delivery, but it is also reported that 4,200 bales are to be shipped from here to Genoa next week.

Spot cotton quiet, 5 points up; middling uplands 12.35; middling gulf 12.60; sales none. Futures closed steady.

THE WEEKLY COTTON REVIEW

New High Ground Made During the Week—Heavy Realizing Encountered—Complaints of Low Night Temperatures.

New York, June 13.—The cotton market made new high ground on active covering by both old and new crop shorts during the past week. Heavy realizing was encountered as the market approached 11 1-2 cents for early new crop deliveries, however, while there were also indications that the narrowing of the difference between New York and Liverpool was leading to considerable liquidation of the straddle long interest in July and prices at the close tonight showed moderate reactions from the best.

There have been complaints of low night temperatures from the Eastern belt and reports of damage from grasshoppers from South Texas, or of boll weevil in Mississippi and Louisiana, but otherwise crop advices have been generally favorable and yesterday a prominent Memphis authority reported an improvement in average condition of over 2 per cent. since the end of last month.

The firmer tone of the market, therefore, was not generally considered, the result of any material change in the new crop outlook, but the strength of the old crop remnant, and an impression that European spinners have tied up a large number of local contracts against prospective requirements doubtless rendered the trade nervous over the possibility of less favorable crop advices should unseasonably low temperatures continue. Further shipments from the local stock have reduced the certificated supply here to less than 45,000 bales, thus increasing the uneasiness of the near month shorts, while bulls have had the encouragement of more optimistic views of the money market, reports of a more active demand upon the mills for goods and a possibility that the Underwood bill would be amended somewhat to the advantage of domestic manufacturers. There was some selling yesterday, however on reports of warmer weather in the belt and an idea that there had been a material reduction in the outstanding short interest.

SLOW TRADING IN STOCKS

Calm Follows Recent Violent Breaks—Sentiment in the Market More Cheerful in Spite of the Slackening Demands

New York, June 13.—The recent violent breaks in stocks and the equally swift recovery yesterday were followed today by slower and calmer trading, with some further progress upward. Final changes in most cases, however, were small. The most urgent demands for short covering seemed to have been met yesterday. Investment buying fell off considerable today. A few stocks, including Reading, Union Pacific, Amalgamated and Can, showed substantial gains at times but the movement in general was narrow. New Haven, which was affected unfavorably by yesterday's wreck, was exceptionally weak, touching a new low figure at 99 1-4.

In spite of the slackening demand, sentiment was more cheerful than for a long time. Not only here but in London a better feeling prevailed. There was some buying here for London account. Time rates were easier, although over the year money was still in scant supply. A feeling of caution prevailed and speculative interests wished to ascertain whether a definite turn in monetary conditions could come.

Forecasts of the bank statement indicated that another addition to cash would be shown. The known movements of currency for the week indicated a cash gain of $8,000,000 or $9,000,000.

The bond market was firm. Total sales par value $2,648,000. United States 3s advanced 1-8 on call. Total sales were 518,700 shares.

COTTON PRICES LOWER.

The Day's Trading on New Orleans Cotton Market.

New Orleans, June 13.—After a small initial advance today the price of cotton worked lower. The market had little of the snap shown on several preceding sessions this week, the short interest appeared to have been considerably reduced, and longs were apparently more disposed to try for profits than for a further rise.

One reason for the lower trend of the market was the more favorable turn taken by the weather over the cotton belt. Many of the more advanced sections of the belt reported blooms and reports from South Texas were that the first bale in the Corpus Christi district would make its appearance about July 1st.

The opening was steady at an advance of 3 to 5 points. In the early trading the advance was increased to 5 to 6 points, which was the high of the day. son and Mr. Underwood, prior to the nomination."

"Do you mean in their campaigns for nomination?"

"In their campaign for nominations, that is what I was told."

"Are there any other such associations?" asked Senator Cummins.

"A great many."

"Can you give us the names of some others?"

"The Western Union Newspaper Union in Chicago, is one, and the American has branch offices in the different States."

A. G. Robinson, of Washington, and F. R. Hathaway, of Detroit, were examined by the committee today.

Robinson said he had written for Cuba sugar men an article afterwards printed in booklet form which was circulated among Senators, Representatives and others. He had also written several magazine and newspaper articles on sugar.

Mr. Hathaway said he was secretary of the Michigan Sugar Company, a concern with six constituent companies capitalized at $12,500,000, of which about $11,000,000 has been issued.

He had been in Washington since March, received a salary of $7,500 as secretary, had talked with many Senators about the sugar provision of the tariff and had filed a brief with the Finance sub-committee in charge of the sugar section.

During the concluding hours of Mr. Palmer's testimony, Senator Reed again took him over the ground about the printing of "sugar at a glance," as a public document. He showed him the original charts that hung in the Senate chamber when Mr. Lodge made his sugar speech that subsequently appeared in the pamphlet, and Mr. Palmer again agreed that he had had made changes in some of the charts, left some out that had appeared in the Senate, and modified the form of others. When Senator Reed continued to press him he grew indignant.

"You seem to think that because I represent the beet sugar industry," he said, "I am a liar. You seem to be seeking to disclose some 'skulduggery.' I say there is not a line on those charts that wasn't there when they came from the public printing office."

Senator Reed and Senator Nelson came near another clash during this examination, when the Minnesota Senator thought Mr. Palmer had talked long enough about "sugar at a glance."

"You are not trying a criminal case here," said Senator Nelson, turning to Senator Reed. "We don't need such minutiae."

"I have tried a few cases myself," returned Senator Reed. "I think I know what I'm doing."

THE POLO SERIES.

Hard Fight Predicted for the Second Game of Contest.

New York, June 13.—Despite the rather easy victory of the United States team in the opening game of the International Polo series a close contest is predicted in the second game with the English cup challengers at the Meadow Brook Club field tomorrow afternoon. Various factors contribute to this impression, including the loss of "Monte" Waterbury at No. 2 on the defending four. While Louis E. Stoddard, who has been nominated to play in his place, is rated but two goals below Waterbury in the Polo Association ranking, it is thought that a breaking up of the "Big Four" combination play may result from the change in the line-up.

In order to use Stoddard to the best advantage it has been decided to move the New Haven player up to No. 1, shifting Larry Waterbury back to the position usually held by his brother who is out of the series as a result of a broken finger.

A change in the English line-up also will mark the second game for F. M. Freake, reservist, has been substituted for Capt. A. Noel. Edwards at No. 2 in the cup challengers for match. This arrangement is said to be due to the fact that Capt. Edwards has been off form during the past week in both hitting and riding. Freake is a veteran of international polo play. It is the general impression that the invading line-up will be stronger than the four of last Tuesday. It is certain that the American team will be unable to "jump" the challengers as they did in the first game as the English will bring out their best ponies for the opening period in preparation for just such tactics.

Betting on tomorrow's game was at even money tonight.

BOY SCOUTS ROUGHING IT.

Kinston Youngsters on Shackleford Banks During Cold Weather.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Kinston, N. C., June 13.—Undergoing the hardships of life in the open on the North Carolina banks in wintry weather are two patrols of Boy Scouts of America, members of the local troop. The lads are in charge of Rev. F. S. Love, the scout master. They left this city on the day scheduled for the beginning of their outing, Wednesday, in spite of the rain and cold, with Shackleford banks, across Lookout Inlet, from Fort Mason, as their destination. The youngsters, of whom there are 15, were well equipped with blankets, provisions and clothing, besides being amply prepared with paraphernalia for sports, and little uneasiness is felt for their health or safety. The scouts are all between the ages of 12 and 15. They will be in camp about 10 days.

FIRE MAY PROVE FATAL.

Young Man Seriously Burned at Wilson—Narrow Escape.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wilson, N. C., June 13.—Fire destroyed the residence occupied by Atlas Murray and family on West Vance street at an early hour this morning and George Taney, a young man Boarding in the house was seriously burned and is in the sanitarium. The physicians state that he has a slight hope of recovery.

The fire was discovered at 3 A. M. when a young man sleeping in the room with Taney was awakened. The entire room was ablaze and Taney was unconscious in the burning bed across the room. This young man was a new-comer to Wilson, one of a group of picture salesmen and cannot be located this morning. He smashed the window and threw Taney out. Jumping from the window he gave the alarm. Mr. Murray sleeping across the hall was awakened and had to break two locked doors to rescue members of his family. With the exception of the furnishings of one room, everything, including the clothing of the family and the two young men, was burned. One of the young men lost $150 in money that he had in his trunk.

Taney came here from Baltimore and seemed reluctant to talk of himself, but was evidently of good family. He was inclined to be wild and would smoke cigarettes in bed. Several times Mr. Murray had remonstrated with him and had also urged him to save his money. Taney recently told Mr. Murray that a bundle of papers in his trunk would give particulars of his family connection in the event of his death. Those papers were burned in the trunk this morning.

Mr. Murray had no insurance and his loss will exceed $1,000. The building was the property of Mrs. Simms, of Norfolk, and is a total loss, with little insurance. Two adjacent dwellings were saved by the efforts of the fire department.

BRADSTREET'S REVIEW.

Many Favorable Features Presented. Market Conditions.

New York, June 13.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

Despite unseasonably cool weather and stock market unsettlement early, there are many favorable features presenting themselves this week. Warmer weather had succeeded the chilling temperatures early experienced, Western trade reports are of a rather more optimistic character, based mainly upon expectations of large, though not record crops of cereals and the advance northward of the Winter wheat harvest.

Clearance sales of Summer goods by jobbers, especially at New York, have been liberally patronized, the sharp rally in stocks, after reaching the lowest levels since 1908, shows that the market is no longer one-sided, at last, but not least the banks encouraged apparently by treasury action have displayed a willingness to loosen up to legitimate commercial borrowers.

On the other hand, tariff uncertainties tend to cause trade for future account to operate under a pull, business in iron and steel is receding and shipments continue to make inroads on orders, while there is said to be some reduction in consumption of pig iron, prices for which are very low, and premiums on finished goods for early delivery tend to pass.

Business falures for the week ending June 12th were 239, which compares with 266 in 1912.

Wheat, including flour, exports for the week ending June 12, aggregate 5,032,466 bushels, against 3,652,148 bushels last year.

DR. NESBITT TO LECTURE.

Will Speak to Civic League at Burgaw—Other Happenings.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Burgaw, N. C., June 13.—The Civic League expects Dr. Nesbitt to lecture here on the evening of June 23rd and desires everybody to attend.——The moving picture show here this week has had bad weather to contend with, but have had pretty fair houses.——After almost continuous rains for ten days, the weather cleared off Friday. The wet weather has given the farmers a black eye.——Mr. H. Garrett Smith, of Norfolk, president of the Burgaw Lumber Co., was here Friday.

Mr. J. Ross McNeal returned from a visit to friends in Virginia Thursday.

It seems that the fight over the postmastership here has been settled as it is announced that the name of Mr. F. T. Croom would be sent to the President very soon for appointment.

STATE DRUGGISTS ADJOURN

Thirty-fourth Annual Convention at Newbern Closes

Many of the members returned home on morning trains, while others left this afternoon.

Hamilton, Brmuda, June 13.—The return race between the motor boats Barbara II, The Dream and Hocsam from Bermuda to Philadelphia, will start at 10 o'clock on Tuesday morning from Davids Light.

Washington, June 13.—Advances ranging from one to four cents a hundred pounds in the freight rates on lumber from points of origin in Florida, Georgia, Alabama and some other points in the Southwestern States, to Washington, D. C., Baltimore, Md., and destinations taking similar rates, and to certain points in New Jersey, today were sustained by the Inter-State Commerce Commission. Previous suspension of the advances was vacated.

The Master Of Strange Powers

Reads the Innermost Secrets of Life Like the Pages of an Open Book.

The great phychologist, Mme. Elda Melean, who is visiting in Wilmington for the first time, is certainly doing all the good that the press and public claim for this noted life reader. This is proven by the large number of our better people who call daily.

Would you achieve success? Would you know and experience the pleasures that come from leading instead of being led? would you win merit in eyes of those with whom you come in contact and create a favorable impression wherever you go? In short, are you tired of your present aimless hit-or-miss existence and lack of ability to create favorable impressions? Surely you are. Then it is a duty that you owe to yourself to call on Elda Melean at once.

Many sad hearts have been gladdened, many weary lives made bright through the advice and magnetism of this Yogi philosopher, who simply amazes men and women in all walks of life who are in trouble or suspense concerning the every day affairs of life. One visit to this eminent clairvoyant may mean the turning point of your life.

Without asking a single question or you speaking one word Mme. Elda Melean will call your name in full, also full names of husband, wife, or sweetheart, tells you whom and when you will marry; never fails to reunite the separated; settles lovers' quarrels, family troubles and tells how to obtain absolute success in business, law suits, divorce, marriage, love affairs, investments, speculations, mining, real estate and all matters of interest.

Many are taking advantage of the special low price of the readings this week. Why not you?
